

GSF 221 Women at Work

Riikka Prattes
Fall 2020

This course will investigate women at work, by drawing on an inclusive definition of work and examining not only paid employment but the relationships between different kinds of paid and unpaid work and their imbrication with systems of oppression: the coloniality of labor, racism, patriarchal and class oppression.